FOOD ADMINISTRATION ISSUES STRICT ORDERS

Wheat Flour Purchase in Every Instance Must be Accompanied by the Buying of Substitute

Sugar Limited to Five Pounds to Each Person and Club Sales Are Banned Except With Corn Meal

A. D. Wilson, state food administrator, has issued cards for all salesmen of wholesale grocery houses setting forth the rules to govern them and their customers in the sale and purchase of the various food products that are now affected by special rule. The rules and their application is general and are:

"Wheat flour and wheat products shall be sold only on a basis of one pound of wheat flour or product to one pound of the following substitutes:

Corn meal	Rice flour
Corn starch	Oat meal
Corn flour	Rolls Oats
Hominy	Buckwheat flour
Corn grits	Potato flour
Barley flour	Sweet potato flour
Rice	Soya bean flour

Peterita flours and meals

"Graham, whole wheat and rye are NOT included as wheat substitutes.

"Graham and whole wheat shall be sold on basis of 10 pounds with 6 pounds of the above substitutes.

"Rye flour may be sold alone.

"Macaroni, cake flours, pancake flours, noodles, breakfast foods and other cereals containing wheat are not substitutes. They may be sold alone.

5 Pound Sugar Limit.
"Not more than 5 pounds of sugar shall be sold to a customer.

"No sugar shall be sold to others than regular customers.

80 Per Cent Bread Limit.
"Bread containing more than 80 per cent of wheat flour must not be sold.

"The sale of freshly killed or live hens and pullets for eating is prohibited.

"Sweet dough goods, crackers, biscuits, cookies, ice cream cones, cakes, pies, pastry, doughnuts must not contain more than 66 2-3 per cent of wheat flour.

"All club sales are prohibited except the sale of one pound of sugar with two pounds of corn meal."

Meatless Day Rules.
Rules requiring a meatless meal every day are abrogated and there are no restrictions now on the serving of meat except on Tuesday. A. D. Wilson, federal food administrator for Minnesota, said today that he has a lengthy message from Herbert C. Hoover explaining reasons for the change, which also wipes out the "porkless Saturday."

Mr. Hoover in this message says lack of transportation facilities and the necessity of feeding soft corn have caused a "backing up" of livestock on farms, and animals now being marketed are showing a big increase in weight. Lack of shipping to send the meat abroad has contributed to a weakening of prices.

"It would be a national calamity," says Mr. Hoover, "if by the acute situation in March and April we should have such a break in prices as to discourage producers. Present levels of producers' prices are unsatisfactory and are being held by packers with great difficulty."

A break in prices now, he says, would probably discourage meat production so there would be another meat shortage between June and September. Lifting the ban partially on meat, he says, will relieve the present pressure on poultry and fish, and also help to save wheat.

The only meat restriction now in force is that beef and pork may not be served on Tuesday.

American Artillery Bombs Hun Trenches

(By United Press)
With the Americans in the Field, March 5—The American artillery violently bombarded the German trenches during a heavy snow storm this morning, the action beginning at 1 o'clock and was extremely intense for half an hour. At that hour the inky black night suddenly burst into flame and dancing lines of fire. The ground trembled and the windows were shaken for a mile to the rear of the line, the German artillery reply to the attack being weak. The entire bombardment lasted an hour diminishing toward the last.

Japan Seems About Plunge Into Siberia With an Armed Force

(By CARL D. GROAT, Staff Correspondent, United Press)
Washington, March 5—Japan appears about to plunge into Siberia with an armed force, this action probably being with the approval of the entente, while the American sanction is withheld for the present. Germany's action toward Finland and Ukraine even after peace was signed indicates the possible action in Siberia, and it is believed that Germany will stop at nothing. Extreme censorship envelops the east but it is known that Japan is mobilizing.

Germans Shout Offense Build Greatest Defense World Has Ever Known

(By HENRY WOOD, Staff Correspondent United Press)
With French Armies in the Field, March 5—While loudly proclaiming their gigantic offensive the Germans are night and day, and have been for months, building the greatest system of defensive warfare there the world has ever known. The Germans realize that they must eventually sustain the shock of the combined French, British and American forces, and they have made three zones called:

First—The zone of habitual combat.
Second—The zone of grand combat.
Third—Zone of battle.
The first replace the old first line trenches, intended to lessen the frightful losses of the first line of trenches. Gen. von Hindenburg would save his men by having them fall back to the zone of grand combat, and this has been elaborately defended the men instead of being concentrated on the first line are spread out to the rear. The third zone is designed for open warfare and built to give the Germans the advantage in every particular possible.

RED CROSS SOCIAL AT DAGGETT BROOK

Successful Affair at School in District No. 49 Nets Over $55 for Daggett Brook Auxiliary

Record of Achievements by Daggett Brook, Now Has Over 100 Members and Each One Is a Worker

(By MRS. OLE ANDERSON, Route 1, Brainerd)
The Red Cross social at the school house in District 49 Saturday evening, March 2, was a decided success, netting $57.35 for the Daggett Brook Auxiliary of the A. R. C.

Because of sickness, bad roads and other reasons the crowd was small in numbers but not in patriotism. The few gentlemen present didn't go a long way to save on their money as they soon proved when they commenced bidding on the ladies' shawls. Francis Fallon, the auctioneer, deserves credit for his efforts to boost a good cause. The gentleman paying the highest price for a shadow was Elmer Peterson of St. Mathias, the lucky girl being Joy Anderson. Everyone present enjoyed a pleasant evening. The wish is expressed to thank everyone that helped us in any way. For the benefit of the public in general and a few doubting Thomases in particular, we would like to publish a short account of what our auxiliary is doing.

As almost everyone knows, the Daggett Brook Auxiliary is a branch of the Brainerd Chapter of the A. R. C., and was organized by the officers of the Brainerd Chapter Nov. 22nd, 1917. Has for members residents of three townships, St. Mathias, Long Lake and Daggett Brook. Nov. 22nd the date of organization, had 14 annual members and one subscribing member, the majority being residents of Daggett Brook, the reason for the name. During the Christmas drive we secured seventy-four new members and fifteen at other times, making a total of 103 members, or $104, one-half of which goes to Red Cross headquarters and the other half to the Brainerd Chapter and is credited to us as our working fund. The Brainerd Chapter supplies us with material to work with. During December, January and February our workers, less than thirty in all, have completed and delivered to the Brainerd Chapter forty-three pairs of socks, eight pairs of wristlets, twenty-seven sweaters, seventy-three bed socks and six bed shirts, a total of one hundred and fifty-seven articles, and still have a number of articles to deliver. Our expenses have been $75, our working fund $52.

The proceeds from the social will pay up back dues and enable us to continue working another month as we are all anxious to do. If anyone doubts these statements please go to the Brainerd Chapter for proof. And when we are tempted to make unkind remarks about the Red Cross workers that can benefit no one and is sure to hurt someone, just try using the time required for such remarks in looking up what the Red Cross is really doing. And when we hesitate about giving a few hours of our time and a dollar or two of our hard earned money, let's stop and think of the thousands of poor homeless boys in the camps of our own country and the trenches in France and what they are giving. And let us all do just the best we can to help just a little to cheer and help our Sammys and their Allies.

But if we must have positive proof that the Red Cross is really doing anything worth while just wait till some of the boys come home. Possibly some one very near and dear to us, as many of them will come with one arm or one leg. And let them tell us how some noble Red Cross nurse or doctor saved their lives and made it possible for them to come home to us. Then waste a lot of precious time lamenting our own carelessness, thinking that possibly the very time and money we could have given and didn't, might have saved some one else's boy as our own was saved.

Let us all do just the best we can so there will be no cause for regrets when the war is over and our noble Sammys come home.

MUST RECLAIM BELGIUM

Challenges to Allies Made By German Newspapers.

Amsterdam, March 5.—The Frankfurter Zeitung, commenting on the recent speech of A. J. Balfour, the British foreign secretary, says:

"The decision as to whether the war, with all its horrors, shall continue or preliminary discussion regarding the possibility of peace shall begin, depends more on President Wilson than on the governments of the European Allies."

The newspaper finds some parts of Mr. Balfour's speech deserving of consideration and regards its moderate tone as a welcome sign. It contends that the demand for the evacuation of that country should only be acceded to if the Allies are able to force Germany out of Belgium.

1917 Fire Losses Heavy.

Trenton, N. J., March 5.—Losses from fire aggregated $230,000,000 in 1917, and were larger than in any previous year, except one, 1906. In the nation's history, according to a communication received by the New Jersey Council of Defense from the Council of National Defense, the San Francisco earthquake and conflagration occurred in 1906. The rapidity with which fire losses are mounting is emphasized by the statement that the 1917 damage exceeded by $20,000,000 that of previous years.

EVERYBODY SLAPS WAR PROFITEERS

CRITICISM OF "PATRIOTS FOR PROFIT" COMES UP IN CONGRESS ON EVERY WAR BILL.

NELSON WON'T ASK PENSION

Aged Senator, Veteran of Civil War, Is Entitled to Draw $30 a Month—New Appropriations Chairman Makes Good.

By ARTHUR W. DUNN.

Washington.—An unfortunate feature that develops in connection with the war is that which shows a determination on the part of certain classes and individuals to "get their share." On this account the debates in congress frequently disclose criticisms of "patriots for profit" and severe denunciation of "profiteers," no matter in what walk of life they may be found. There is scarcely a bill considered in congress having for its object promotion of war purposes that does not call for condemnation sooner or later of those who are determined to make money out of the war, although the government itself and a large proportion of the people feel that they are engaged in a life and death struggle, and are bending every energy and are straining their resources to win the war.

A number of members of the house watched with interest the manner in which Swager Sherley, the new chairman of the committee on appropriations, handled his first big appropriation bill. Sherley has had a long experience on the committee, and during the last seven years has had much to do with appropriations, but it is generally a little different when a man has full responsibility as chairman. The verdict among the members was that Sherley handled himself mighty well, working his bill through with very little friction, and that he is able to take care of himself and the legislation under his charge.

It is expected that when the naval appropriation bill is passed provision will be made for 50,000 additional men for temporary service. There are men connected with the navy and many men in congress who think there ought to be at least 30,000 men added for permanent service, to insure a sufficient force for the future defense of the country. The matter will be threshed out pretty thoroughly before the naval bill passes congress.

Senator Nelson of Minnesota is one of the three veterans of the Union army of the Civil war now in the senate. Senator Nelson has never applied for a pension, but he is entitled to draw $30 a month on the basis of the law which granted that amount to soldiers who had a certain length of service and had reached the age of seventy-five years. The veteran Minnesota senator has recently passed that age.

"I have never applied for a pension and I will not apply as long as I am on the pay roll of the government," said Senator Nelson. "As soon as my term expires I shall make application and endeavor to go on the pension roll the day my services cease in the senate. I think I am entitled to that much for my war services."

Senator Nelson told an interesting story about the correction of his military record during his first term in congress, 30 years ago. He was talking with an auditor of the pension bureau regarding the claims of some of his constituents, and remarked that he himself might be entitled to some back pay by reason of his service and because he had not drawn everything that was coming to him while in the service. The auditor told him to write a letter on the subject, and it was found upon investigation that the records did not show that Nelson was at one time a war prisoner, although he was captured with other Union troops at Port Hudson, La. Nelson had the matter looked up in the records at Madison, Wis., and the war department in Washington corrected the record according to the facts. It also appeared that he was entitled to $23 and some odd cents from the government, which was paid him. This amount was included in six or seven items, the largest being commutation of rations at 25 cents a day for 25 days while he was a prisoner of war. The rest was made up in dribbles from commissary stores, clothing, etc.

Cylindrical Violin.

An entire departure from the conventional lines of violin construction has been made in an instrument for which patents have recently been granted to an Illinois inventor. The body of the violin is cylindrical in form. However, the sound post and bass-bar in a modified form are necessarily retained. The instrument is provided with a chin-rest so shaped as to be extended laterally while in use and of folding against the instrument when not in use.

The appearance of the violin is most extraordinary, but it is said that the quality and volume of tone is the equal of that found in hand-made violins of conventional construction. The peculiar form involves a simplification in the mode of manufacture and admits of instruments being made wholly by machinery, while still possessing excellent tone quality.

FIGHTERS' BILL PASSES

Soldiers and Sailor Civil Right Measure Adopted.

Protests of Insurance Companies and Similar Interests Delayed Act.

Washington, March 5.—The so-called soldiers' and sailors' civil rights bill, giving sweeping protection to Uncle Sam's fighting men, has been approved by Congress. President Wilson's signature is expected within a day or two.

Washington, March 5.—Giving sweeping protection to Uncle Sam's fighting men, the so-called soldiers' and sailors' civil rights bill was approved last night by Congress. President Wilson's signature is expected within a day or so.

Under the provisions of the bill, fighting men and their dependents are protected against eviction for non-payment of rent, loss of life insurance through delayed premiums; the execution of mortgages against their property; loss of their homes on which part payment has been made; loss of property through non-payment of taxes, or loss of homestead through absence or non-payment of fees.

All this protection is given on the condition that a man's normal ability to meet his obligations has been materially affected by his military service.

Protests Delay Passage.
The measure has been before Congress almost since the first of the war. Difficulties of drafting it and the protests of certain insurance, building companies, loan companies and similar interests, delayed its passage.

With the war risk insurance bill, it is declared by administration leaders to make up the most liberal legislation in protection of a nation's fighters in history. Its final approval was by unanimous vote.

WOMAN'S REALM

TO WEAR UNDER SUITCOAT

Sleeveless Jacket Admired by Many for Wear in the South or as a Summer Sport Garment.

The little sleeveless jacket to be worn underneath the suitcoat if desired, or, if worn in the South or designed for summer sports wear slipped on over a tailored blouse, is one of the popular modes of the moment.

These jackets are made of wool jersey cloth or of lightweight wool velours usually, although they are correct in corduroy, velvet or satin.

One of these jackets, is a very simple affair, buttoning frankly in the center front and held in with a belt of self-fabric. Occasionally a little "change" pocket is let in at one side, and some of the jackets are shown cut double-breasted and finished with two rows of buttons. The simpler ones are, however, decidedly the smartest and have the additional advantage of being easy to make.

Another sleeveless jacket has been christened the "trench" vest. It consists primarily of a panel front and back, with opening through which the head is slipped. It is open underneath the arms, except at the waistline where a belt holds it to the figure.

This is the simplest of all the models to make, as a straight piece of fabric sufficiently long to reach from back to front of the figure and allow six or eight inches below the waistline is cut out to form a neck, which may be plain or finished with a "Mink" collar, and the whole is belted in as desired at the waist.

Jackets that are semi-fitted, are, however, smarter and in better taste.

SEPARATE SKIRT TO BE WORN

Spring and Summer Demand for This Favorite Garment Promises to Far Exceed That of Winter.

More than ever the separate skirt has a definite mission in the well-dressed woman's wardrobe. It has been worn this winter under the heavy coat and it is to be worn in the spring and next summer with lingerie blouses and sweaters of silk or wool. Separate skirts for spring will almost all of them be made of silk. The conservation of wool demands that women use more silk and when climate conspires with patriotism the task will not be difficult. The new skirts are in themselves so attractive that every woman must desire them. They are of course, moderately scant, but there is never anything skimpy looking about them. Of course, there is much drape or plaited fullness about the hips in some of them. In others the hips are well defined and such fullness as there is is secured by clever plaits and sometimes by shirring or the use of hip yokes. All sorts of silks are used in making these skirts. There are some striped taffetas—the stripe or satin—that are especially attractive. They are made in a heavy quality and not only always look crisp and fresh but will give good wear.

SHAPE COURSE, STICK TO IT

This Is Only Effective Policy to Be Pursued by Commercial Club, It Is Declared.

Community building, in its final analysis, resolves itself into a question of energy directed by will. If we want a thing we can get it by shaping out a course and sticking to it, declares the Bryan (Tex.) Eagle. Dallying with every proposition that comes up will never get a business club anywhere. Nothing will be accomplished and the club might as well disband and go home. Every member, particularly every director, should be live, wide-awake and rearing to go. Every member should be not only willing but glad to contribute to any worthy movement that means more for the town. And every man in the town should be a member.

A commercial club's supreme purpose is something else than adding a few dollars to the trade of the town and paying a secretary to keep the minutes and the accounts. The ideal secretary is a man of ideas and dynamic force, who can lead his people to the acceptance of those ideas, who can arouse interest of the directors and other members and give them something to do, unconsciously to themselves, that is worth while for the upbuilding of the town.

Mistakes in Drainage.

It has been learned by experience as well as by experimental investigation that the influence of a tile drain in removing water from soil of uniform character is increased by lowering the drain. A drain laid at a considerable depth along one side of a road is better than two drains at less depth, one on each side of the road, provided the soil is of a uniform character. Unfortunately, this qualifying provision in the general statement is often forgotten, and a single line of tile is laid along one side of a road where the conditions are such that it cannot possibly perform the desired work. In a subsoil which changes from sand to a compact, fairly impervious clay at six feet, it would be unwise to install drains deeper than six feet, for otherwise they would be in material yielding very little water, and might even prove less effective than drains laid at the level of the clay surface.

Errors in Finish.

Prospective builders should plan to make their dwelling not a mere house, but a home. Indifferent looking trim should be avoided. Color in woodwork, whether stained, enameled or painted, is the keynote of taste in homelike rooms. Daintiness, warmth of tone and artistic effect are totally dependent upon the kind of wood on which the desired color scheme is carried out.

"The obligation of every man, woman and child out of uniform to help feed himself will be greater in 1918 than in 1917. Therefore the home gardening and canning activities of last year must be repeated."

This is the message of the United States Department of Agriculture to every family. Those who cannot produce, can conserve and save food. There must be no backsliding among experienced gardeners; they must repeat their contribution of food. Absence of novelty must not deter those who tried gardening for the first time in 1917 from capitalizing their increased knowledge and skill. Those with experience must help thousands of beginners to make every seed count—to get satisfactory returns from their work with hoe, rake and watering can. There must be no slackening off. Gardening is everybody's business, but in 1918 everyone must attend to that business.

And now a word of caution. Don't plant more than you can cultivate; don't try to raise more than you can use. And water systematically all spring and summer. A few square yards well tilled will yield more than a half acre allowed to run to weeds.

The Department advises strongly against effort by amateur gardeners to produce truck crops for sale. Such enterprises commonly prove unwise, burdensome to all concerned and not infrequently financially unprofitable. Much precious seed and fertilizer—to say nothing of time and labor—were wasted last year in such undertakings. The government's home gardening specialists believe that best results will be attained if each family attempts to raise only enough vegetables to supply its own table and to afford the surplus which its members can dry, can, or store for later home consumption.

A new line is touched with the semi-fichu effect of the lingerie frock ornamented with crocheted olives. Superimposed ruffles are of embroidered organdie with edging of fillet lace. The the immediate needs of his family and its canning and drying requirements thereafter should devote attention to fall crops of root vegetables such as potatoes, beets, late turnips, carrots and parsnips, which can be stored easily for later use. It also would be well to give attention to the production of mature Lima or other beans which can be shelled and kept in bags.

Help on the Home Food Plot.

The garden specialists of the Department and of the State Agricultural colleges stand ready to help everyone make the greatest possible success of his home garden and to assist in the canning of surplus food.

With the cooperation of the press, the Department will carry the gardening advice of its specialists directly to many millions of readers. To supplement this "Food From Your Back Yard" series, of which this article is the foreword, the Department has issued two new war garden bulletins for every home gardener who wishes to help feed himself. They are:

"The Farm Garden in the North," Farmers' Bulletin No. 937.

"Home Gardening in the South," Farmers' Bulletin No. 934.

"The City and Suburban Vegetable Garden," Farmers' Bulletin No. 936.

Your postal card to the Division of Publications, U. S. Department of Agriculture, will bring your free copy.

Read these articles as they appear. Study the handbooks around the winter lamp. You will be ready to deal with soil and seed as soon as spring weather permits.

PERGOLA NOW WIDELY USED

Adds to Beauty of Garden If It Is Properly Constructed and Effectively Placed.

Comparatively few gardens are now complete without a pergola of some kind, though twenty years ago they were almost unknown in America. They are, however, so useful in giving variety to the garden, and have so much decorative value, that they are widely used.

Pergolas need careful construction, and an effort should be made, before building one, to choose a suitable position for it, since, if a pergola is set down with no apparent reason d'être, it becomes a burden rather than a help in the garden scheme. It should lead to some defined object—to a summer house, or a gate, or perhaps to terrace steps; if it begins and ends for no apparent reason, it is certainly misplaced.

In the gardens of La Mortola near Bordighera, the pergola leads out to a wide terrace with a stone balustrade, while beyond lies the wonderful blue of the Mediterranean and the gray rocks of the Italian coast; and this view gains a double value from being framed as it were, in a tunnel of greenery.

"Panic Proof" Vies With Fire Proof.

According to a decision recently made by Supreme Court Justice Gavan of New York the state industrial commission may direct owners of buildings to make them "panic proof," even if they were previously fireproof. The court said: "The reasonableness of the commission's orders depends directly on the question, 'Is the building safe from the danger of panic?' Panic may result from causes not confined to a factory building itself not affected by its fireproof character. It may be caused by smoke alone, or by fire in a building adjoining or in the immediate neighborhood, or by a conflagration, or by a hostile attack in time of war from land, sea or air, or by earthquake, or even by a false alarm."

Mad Artists.

Quite a number of eminent artists have been victims of brain disorder. Sir Edwin Landseer, towards the close of his life, showed signs of insanity, while the eccentricities of Turner were quite of the insane order. Amongst other eminent artists it might be mentioned that Sir Thomas Lawrence suffered from a symptom of brain disorder; David Wilkie lost power of attention, and ultimately had a nervous seizure which made his speech incoherent; while Romney suffered so much from the hallucination that his talent would desert him that at the height of his fame he thought of relinquishing his art altogether.

Screening Rear Garden With Trellis.

If your rear garden is too much in evidence and chickens and laundry are not very decorative, a pretty white gate, or even a plain high white trellis reaching from the side of the house to the side fence, will shut off everything objectionable. No matter how small your back garden you will need more of the white trellis to make it perfect.

HOME TOWN HELPS

NEED OF DEFINITE PROGRAM

To Strike at the Essential Rather Than the Incidental Is Object of Best Commercial Bodies.

To strike at the essential rather than the incidental, to get an organic program and follow it unwaveringly—that is the object of the directors and executives of well-organized commercial associations today.

There was a time when citizens of many communities had a mixture of right and wrong impressions about the function of such organizations. They were right in their recognition of the need for a central directing force, but wrong in their assumption that such a force could be made 100 per cent efficient without intelligent, broad-minded management and a definite, concrete program, declares the Indianapolis Star.

So commercial organizations have gone through an evolution. The tendency today is to make them indispensable business institutions—just as necessary to well-rounded city life as a public utility or any food or clothing distributor. The tendency is to make such organizations reflexes of all other business activity—a guardian of commercial, social and civic interests. Citizens in their collective capacity speak and act effectively through such an organization.

Large chambers of commerce in many American cities have achieved notable results for their localities by adopting a definite program and sticking to it.

"Every community has its own problems, but there are certain lines of work that have been found productive very generally in all American cities," said Ernest N. Smith, general secretary of the Indianapolis chamber of commerce.

"The purpose of the well-conducted modern chamber of commerce is to establish departments of activity and undertake programs of civic change that will operate definitely at every point to make the city larger or better."

Advertising cannot accomplish the impossible any more than barren ground can yield rich crop.

But how advertising does make things hum when the product and proposition are right, the men and methods above board, when there's an honest purpose and earnest effort from bundle boy to general manager to serve efficiency, to deal honestly, to sell good goods, to price fairly.

Oil up the machinery of your business, imbue your organization with the spirit of true service, make your business worthy of the good will, the confidence, the patronage of the people.

LIBERTY BOND CAMPAIGN

The Liberty Bond campaign committee will soon be announced by the local chairman, Carl Zapffe. He is now fitting up an office in Room No. 215, Citizens State bank building, the use of this room having been donated by the Citizens State bank. The furnishings required will be donated by different citizens. A clerk will be engaged and be in constant attendance and a telephone will be installed.

The chairman has already received five thousand cards which are to be filled out, one for each owner of real and personal property in the county, and the information to be collected will give a complete account of each such individual. The headings on the cards are given below:

"Aliens who voted must be punished," District Judge Daniel Fish told the grand jury of Hennepin county in his charge to them, and he also ruled that "only the simple minded and ignorant would escape punishment designed for those who hamper enlistment by seditious talk if indirect statements were held to be harmless, the shrewd and brilliant men would be able to couch their statements in terms that would escape the law, yet have exactly the same effect as the direct statements."

The news of the death of Lyndon A. Smith, attorney general of Minnesota, while not unexpected, is a shock to his friends throughout the entire state. The state has lost an able official, one whose ability and fair mindedness was recognized by every man with whom he came in contact and it is with sorrow that his demise is recorded.

The predicted slump in the price of potatoes is being realized in many sections of Minnesota. In many parts as low as 50 cents being recorded while the prevailing quotation of from 70 to 80 cents is noted.

of British Around Lens—Ameri-

Present.

Paris, March 5.—The French carried out a surprise attack east of the Meuse at the Colonne trenches and penetrated as far as the fourth German line on a front of nearly four-fifths of a mile and to a depth of more than a third of a mile, the war office announces. The French captured more than 150 prisoners.

British Advance in Palestine.
London, March 5.—British troops operating north of Jerusalem in Palestine have made an advance along a front of 12 miles to a maximum depth of 3,000 yards astride and west of the Jerusalem-Nabulus road, the war office announced yesterday.

The text of the statement says: "From Friday to Sunday several encounters between mounted patrols occurred east and north of Jericho. Between Saturday and Sunday our troops advanced northward to a maximum depth of 3,000 yards on a frontage of 12 miles, astride and west of the Jerusalem-Nabulus road, encountering little opposition."

"An enemy airplane was brought down in our line east of Jaffa. The pilot and observer were wounded and captured."

No More Attacks on Americans.
Since Sunday the Germans have left the Americans in comparative peace in their sector near Toul. Probably finding that their attempted forays were too costly, they have failed to launch further attacks and even have cut down materially their artillery fire and gas shell bombardments. As a result, the American gunners have worked havoc among the Germans by heavily shelling a large cantonment where troops were assembling.

Near Warnton, southeast of Ypres, the Australians have carried out a big raid against enemy positions, killing at least 50 of the German defenders, destroying dugouts and bringing in prisoners.

Around Lens the Germans have begun a rather intensive bombardment against the British troops besieging the great coal center.

ARGENTINA READY TO AID

Belief Prevails That Nation Will Help Allies.

Buenos Aires, March 5.—Obviously officially inspired articles in the newspapers here indicate that Argentina is on the eve of a radical change of front as regards the world war. These articles, however, do not make clear whether a rupture with Germany is to be brought or whether Argentina's efforts will be confined principally to the purchase and shipping of supplies to the Allies.

The general belief is that any change on the part of Argentina will be an economic and not a political one.

The newspapers argue that Argentina can not aid the Allies with men, but that she can do so with supplies. The government now is treating with American and British diplomats for a treaty covering meat shipments similar to the recently signed cereal convention.

$500,000,000 FOR AIRCRAFT

Huge Sum Asked of Congress by War
Secretary.

Washington, March 5.—Further appropriations of $500,000,000 for the army aircraft program in addition to $649,000,000 already authorized is asked of Congress by the War department.

The War department informed the Senate military committee that more than $649,000,000 already had been spent and $200,000,000 more is immediately needed. General Pershing frequently makes requests in connection with aviation work, for which no funds are immediately available.

The request promises to give impetus to the inquiry by the Senate military committee into the aircraft program.

Laughless Days for Manitoba.

Winnipeg, March 5.—A move to establish a lot of laughless days has been made here. Members of the Canadian Film Exchange Managers' association discontinued importation of comic movies into Manitoba. The step is a protest against what managers claim is "ruthless" censoring. Films that "get by" in other provinces are barred here, they claim. Censors answered by threatening to extend the censorship to other kinds of movies, which are now being shown at theatres in the province.

War Department Announces Taking Over of Toul Sector—"Belligerent Groups Massing Forces."

Washington, March 5.—The War department, in its review for the week ending March 2, notes continued preparatory movements by the Germans along the west front. "The momentum of battle is increasing," the statement declares, citing three enemy attempts to reach American lines as an example of what is taking place "on a large scale along the entire western front."

Take Over Toul Sector.
The definite announcement is made that American forces have taken over a sector northwest of Toul and that a number of detached units are in action in the Champagne.

Operations in the eastern theatre are expected to affect events in France through a modification of German plans, the review intimates. Six Teuton columns are operating in Russia, and to only one of these—the column moving towards Vitebsk—is any opposition noted.

Massing Forces.
The review says: "The third month of relative quiescence on the western front has come to a close. During this period both belligerent groups have been massing their forces."

"There is evidence that the enemy continues to bring up fresh units, owing to the transportation difficulties this has been a slow and laborious process."

"The Allied war council now is in continuous session assuring complete unity and flexibility of control."

"The British have extended their front."

"Our own forces have taken over a sector northwest of Toul. In addition a number of our detached units are in action in Champagne and the momentum of battle is increasing."

The degree to which the aviation program of the army depends upon highly skilled labor is shown by the statement that "ninety-eight of every hundred men in the aviation section must be skilled in some branch of the work."

Senate Sometimes Talks of Hurrying but Always Takes its Time—Miss
Boardman Says Women Work Better
When in Uniform.

BY ARTHUR W. DUNN.

Washington.—Lack of interest in the proceedings of both house and senate may be attributed to the fact that the most important legislation is now prepared by the executive departments and "whipped into shape," or modified to some extent, by committees. For the most part senators on the Democratic side have determined to support the bills which the administration asks for carrying on the war. A large number of Republicans have made up their minds to do the same. There may be a small minority of Democrats who would like to assert their opinion, and do assert it from time to time, but only two or three vote against legislation which the administration wants. There are on the Republican side a number of senators who think that the legislation asked for is too drastic and some of it unnecessary, and they are inclined to express their opinions and discuss the bills, but few votes are cast against administration bills. The Democratic side having charge of the bills must enter into a defense of them. That is what prolongs the debate in the senate, but it is a debate which is not listened to by very many senators.

Even a discussion of the important railroad bill failed to keep a quorum in the senate and the most interesting speeches on that subject were not listened to by more than a dozen senators.

Once in a while the senate talks about hurrying things through; various senators speak of the necessity of haste in the consideration of various measures; and yet it is observed that the delays are just about the same as in former times when there was no real hurry necessary. A senator began a speech on one of the important bills recently and he urged immediate action and pointed out the necessity of speed. Then he talked nearly all the afternoon with not more than a half a dozen senators listening to him. But that is one of the ways of the senate.

According to Miss Mabel Boardman, who for long was the active head of the national Red Cross, and who now takes an important part in marshalling the uniformed women of Washington who belong to that organization when there is anything going on, women work better in uniforms and under officers with military titles than they do in their ordinary garb and under officers with civilian titles.

Perhaps this is due to the fact that so many women see so many men in uniform at the present time. Men in uniform are conspicuous by their number, particularly on the streets of eastern cities and at any point near the big camps. Women also like to get into uniforms and they probably share the glamor of military life which is apparent in this country at the present time.

It was demonstrated in the house recently that this is no time for splitting hairs. A big appropriation bill was under consideration and it contained a provision of many millions of dollars for building quarters in the District of Columbia for the employees needed to carry on the war. Congressman Clark of Florida, who is chairman of the committee on public buildings and grounds, and is jealous of the prerogatives and rights of his committee, interposed a point of order and the housing appropriation had to go out of the bill. Clark could not stand the pressure and criticism which his act occasioned, and before the bill passed he was compelled to calm down and allow the provision to stand, although it had not been considered by his committee.

Two members of the house of representatives sacrificed important committee places to become chairmen of newly created committees. Both were under the impression that the newly created committees were going to assume an importance which has not been realized. Congressman Shackelford of Missouri left the ways and means committee to become chairman of the committee on roads. Congress has passed a road bill, but road legislation has been shunted since the war began, and it may be a long time before it is taken up again. At the time Shackelford was appointed chairman of the roads committee he occupied a place between Oscar Underwood and Claude Kitchen on the ways and means committee. If he had not left this most important committee, he would have become its chairman, making him the leader of the house and the most influential member of that body.

Congressman Humphreys of Mississippi left the rivers and harbors committee in order to be chairman of the newly created committee on flood control. This committee, however, is not very important during war times.

LYNDON SMITH IS DEAD

Attorney General of Minnesota
Passes Away.

Had Been Stricken With Paralysis
and Never Regained Consciousness.

St. Paul, March 5.—Lyndon A. Smith, attorney general of Minnesota, died at 1 a. m. Tuesday at his residence at the Marlborough apartments, St. Paul. He was 63 years old.

Mr. Smith suffered a stroke of paralysis just a week ago and never regained complete consciousness. His fatal illness came suddenly, following several months of excellent health. He was stricken after he had reached his home at the close of the day's work.

His death closes a life-long career spent in public service, more than a quarter of a century of which was spent in Minnesota. Previous to that he had been in the service of the federal government.

Attorney-General Six Years.

Mr. Smith had been attorney general a little more than six years. He was appointed to the office by Governor Eberhart, January 1, 1912, to fill a vacancy caused by the resignation of George T. Simpson. At that time he had been assistant attorney general for three years. From 1899 to 1903, he had served as lieutenant-governor of the state.

Mr. Smith's illness, at first regarded by his physicians as probably fatal, assumed a less serious aspect later on, and the progress he seemed to be making from day to day gave rise to hopes that he would recover. He appeared to improve up to Sunday when he suffered a sudden relapse, and it became evident that the end was near.

GIVE UP PLATINUM!

Women of Nation Are Asked to Make Sacrifice.

Precious Metal So Badly Needed by the Government Will Not Be Used for Personal Adornment by the True Patriot.

By ABBIE FARWELL BROWN of the Vigilantes.

Who would have thought that so small a thing as a bit of jewelry might show one's unpatriotism? And yet it is so! Every woman who wears a bit of platinum jewelry is defrauding the government of just so much power for war. Every man who buys a platinum setting for his dear lady's ring is putting the badge of his carelessness upon her. Every jeweler who persuades a buyer that platinum is more chic than the gold of other days, is acting contrary to the nation's interests.

Platinum is exceedingly important in the steel and iron works and in the manufacture of munitions. From it is produced sulphuric acid, used in making high explosives. It is one of the big assets of power; but platinum is scarce, growing scarcer every day. The situation is so serious as to cripple both the university laboratories, whose patriotic chemists are working on war problems, and the chemical industries which have developed here since war began, to replace German productions.

Our country contains no platinum mines, and the supply from the Ural mountains is almost unobtainable now. In the Russian crisis. Our other great platinum source, Colombia, has also apparently failed us at this juncture. The shortage is such that the metal now costs $98 an ounce! But for that very reason—because it is doubly precious—some unthinking persons desire it all the more to adorn themselves. Think of it! To adorn one's silly self, at the expense of one's country's safety! Surely there is no American woman so selfish, when once she knows the truth. Surely no one desires to be more beautiful at the cost of blood.

Jewelry set in platinum is undeniably rich. But one is not, I hope, thinking about rich effects in dress nowadays. It is no time to court simplicity.

"Granny" Chamberlain

Influenza
"No one who has not had Influenza can realize the suffering it causes or how it defies treatment. I know of nothing that will give such prompt relief as Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, for when it is taken the pain in the chest disappears, the fever subsides and the whole body becomes more comfortable."

Then again, the after effects of Influenza are often even more distressing than the disease itself, but they can be avoided if you use

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy

Though the greatest danger from this disease is Pneumonia, I have never known a single case of Influenza to result in it when Chamberlain's Cough Remedy was freely given. The persistent cough that frequently follows Influenza can be relieved by Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, and should not be allowed to run on until it becomes troublesome."

tion with jewelry. Patriotism is the only bright, particular jewel worth displaying.

So keen is the anxiety of the chemists over the high cost of platinum that one world-famous scientist has sacrificed a beautiful platinum dish presented to him in recognition of his distinguished service to science. This patriot sold his precious keepsake, the reward of years of faithful research for mankind, in order that the metal it contained might be fashioned into chemists' supplies for the further aid of his country. Such a memorial was worth more than jewels.

Cannot all the women of America be as self-sacrificing as this great man of science?

Fish Scale Jewelry.

That there is commercial value in unconsidered trifles is shown by a writer, who says:

"The scales of fish, which are of utility to the owner during its sojourn in the vasty deep, are ignored after capture as good only for the refuse heap. But it was not ever thus," says an exchange. "In days gone by fish scales possessed a real value, notably those of roach, bleak, dace and whitebait."

"Older writers tell us how the scales of these fishes were collected and used in the manufacture of necklaces, earrings and such like ornament. Thames fishermen used to catch fish, take off the scales and throw the body back into the river. A pigment was obtained by treating the scales in a certain fashion, whitebait being the most popular fish used for the purpose. So great formerly was the demand at times that the price of a quart of fish scales varied from one to five guineas."

"This treatment of fish scales for making small personal adornments is attributed to the French."

DR. H. A. INGHAM PATRIOTIC TALK

Will Deliver Address at the First Methodist Church This Evening Under Auspices of

THE MINISTERIAL ASSOCIATION

Dr. Ingham is Pastor of Endion Church, Duluth—Topic Will be "Why America is at War"

Tonight at 8 o'clock will occur the first patriotic address of a special series to be delivered under the auspices of the Brainerd Ministerial association.

Dr. H. A. Ingham is pastor of the Endion Methodist church of Duluth and a splendid speaker. The subject of his address will be "Why America is at War."

This series of lectures deals with the relation of Christianity and patriotism to the present world war. They are put on that the citizens of Brainerd of all denominations may hear what our leading men of ability and influence have to say on the subject. The adjustment of a deeply Christian nation to that of a most barbarous world war is an exceedingly difficult one to understand and reconcile and these addresses are to encourage the right sort of patriotism.

Everybody is invited to the address this evening at 8 o'clock at the Methodist church. No admission will be charged but a silver offering is requested to cover expenses.

JOS. W. BRITTON CALLED TO REWARD

Served in Third Minnesota, Funeral to be Held on Thursday From Methodist Church

Joseph W. Britton, age 73, of 1303 South Seventh street, died of dropsy at 10:30 o'clock Tuesday morning. The end came calmly and peacefully after weeks of suffering. With him was his wife and other members of the family.

It proved a shock to his faithful wife who is seriously sick with pneumonia.

Mr. Britton is survived by his wife, six sons, William, Joseph, John and Herbert of Brainerd and Henry and Clarence of Chalkbutte, Meade county, S. D.; four daughters, Mrs. Margie Read of Staples, Mrs. Frank Russell and Mrs. Clifford Russell of Brainerd, Mrs. Mary Rails of Orange, Cal.

His brothers were Francis J. Britton, of Brainerd; Franklin Britton, of Seattle, Wash.; George Britton, of New Duluth. A sister, Mary, lives in Minneapolis.

Mr. Britton was a member of the Third Minnesota and served in some of the hottest engagements of the civil war. He came from Sauk Center to Brainerd and engaged in the draying business, acquiring a competence through honest, earnest toil. All knew him in Brainerd for he always had a happy kind word for everyone. He took great interest in G. A. R. affairs and never missed a reunion or patriotic meeting. He held membership in the Methodist church.

The funeral, as near as be ascertained, will be from the Methodist church on Thursday afternoon. The sympathy of the community is extended to the bereaved family.

TRACTOR SCHOOL TO BE BIG EVENT

International Harvester Co. to Stage Event March 15 and 16 at the Best Theatre

SCHOOL ON PRACTICAL LINES

Instructors and Demonstrators are Practical Men, Motion Pictures to be Shown

The tractor school to be held at the Best theatre in Brainerd March 15 and 16 promises to be largely attended. Hundreds of circular letters have been sent out to farmers and farm owners by the International Harvester Co. of America which on behalf of Rosko Brothers, agents of the company in Brainerd, extend an invitation to attend the school.

The school will be conducted along strictly practical lines. Instructors and demonstrators are practical men both in the factory and on the farm, and know all the processes of treatments through which the various parts of a tractor and engine pass in course of manufacture. They are not only familiar with the theoretical end of tractor building, but also the practical end.

No expense has been spared in preparing for this school. Tractors and engines will be explained by charts and tractor parts in a plain, simple, understandable way. The school will be absolutely free. The school is for everybody interested in power farming. In the afternoon there will be motion pictures, such as "Evolution of Harvesting," "The Chicago Vacant Lots Turned Into Gardens" and "How the Tractor Does the Work." In those pictures one will see the latest invention, the shocking machine, and three large tractors pulling 55 plows. All enrolling in the school will be given free tickets to the motion pictures and a 160 page book, "Internal Combustion, Engine and Tractors," by Major O. B. Zimmerman, U. S. R. Engineer Corps.

BRAINERD'S OLDEST STORIES OF TODAY

This morning was an eventful one in the busy life of James Wieland, age 34 years. Aided and abetted by his grandfather, father and others while mother was away on a visit, Jimmie hied to a barber shop and got a real haircut "just like a man," he said, and with every movement of the barber's shears, away went the baby curls. He told his experience to his chum, Billy McClenahan, and the latter is just waiting for a chance to show Jimmie he's just as brave.

There was excitement in a south side household last night. While taking stock of the family china and dusting same, they stumbled on a sugar bowl full of real sugar.

Any dub can make a garage out of a barn, but it takes transcendence of genius of the highest order to transmute a chicken coop into a palatial Henry Ford home for a tin Lizzie.

At the Best Wednesday

For sheer grit and pluck little Marguerite Clark has no superior. In her latest Paramount Picture "The Amazons," she plays a tomboyish sort of a girl who fences, boxes, rides and swims exactly like a boy—and a mighty clever boy at that. In several scenes she fights, and the fights are real, stand-up-and-take-it fights, and little Miss Clark got severely bruised during the course of some of them. But did that stop her? On the contrary, she straightway engaged a trainer and actually took lessons in scientific boxing.

This is only an example of the way she has worked her way from the start of her motion picture career, stopping at nothing, making a stepping stone out of each obstacle. She started with amateur theatricals at her home in Cincinnati from which she graduated to a small part in the Aborn Opera company and later to musical comedy.

Step by step, little by little, she advanced, appearing on the stage both in this country and abroad. Some of the productions in which she starred were "Affairs of Anatols," "Snow White" and "Prunella."

Text of Treaty Between Germany and Russia is Made Public—Romania Accepts Armistice Conditions.

Berlin, March 5.—"The Romanians have accepted our armistice conditions," says a German official communication.

Washington, March 5.—Official dispatches to the Swedish legation say Germany has announced to the Stockholm foreign office her intention to occupy Finland and that Germany's occupation of the Aland Islands is only a preliminary step. Sweden has protested. Germany advised Sweden the dispatches say, that it was necessary to temporarily occupy Finland to restore order but gave assurances that she has no intention to take permanent possession of the territory. Sweden protested also against the Aland Islands being placed in the war zone.

Base For Foe Supplies.

The occupation of the Aland Islands, the dispatches say, is to make them a base for supplying the German occupation of Finland. There are 500 Swedish troops on the islands for police purposes. Their commander was notified by the German commander of his intentions and while so far there has been no clash reported, the Swedish troops have not been withdrawn and the feeling is described here as being very tense.

Terms of Teuton Peace.

Amsterdam, March 5.—The peace treaty signed between the four Teutonic powers and Russia, according to a dispatch received here from Berlin, says the powers mentioned "have agreed to terminate the state of war and bring about peace as quickly as possible," and that therefore, the plenipotentiaries signed the following articles:

First—The Teutonic powers and Russia declare the state of war between them to be terminated and are resolved henceforth to live in peace and friendship with one another.

Second—The contracting nations will refrain from all agitation or provocation against other signatory governments and undertake to spare the populations of the regions occupied by the powers of the quadruple alliance.

Russia Surrenders West.

Third—The regions lying west of the line agreed upon by the contracting parties, and formerly belonging to Russia, shall no longer be under the Russian sovereignty. It is agreed that the line appears from the appended map, No. 1, which, as agreed upon, forms an essential part of the peace treaty. The fixing of the line in the west will be settled in the German-Russian commission. The region in question will have no obligation whatever toward Russia, arising from their former relations thereto.

"Russia undertakes to refrain from all interference in the international affairs of these territories and to let Germany and Austria determine the future fate of these territories in agreement with their populations.

Teutons Agree to Evacuate.

Fourth—Germany and Austria agree, when a general peace is concluded and Russian demobilization is fully completed, to evacuate the region east of the line designated in Article 2, No. 1, in so far as Article 6 does not stipulate otherwise.

"Russia will do everything in her power to complete as soon as possible the evacuation of the Anstelian provinces and their orderly return to Turkey.

"God With Us Again," Says Kaiser. Emperor William, according to an official announcement made on the conclusion of peace between Germany and Russia sent a telegram to Count von Hertling, the German imperial chancellor, reading as follows: "The German sword wielded by our great army leaders has brought peace with Russia. With deep gratitude to God, who has been with us, I am filled with proud joy at the deeds of my army and the tenacious perseverance of my people. It is of special satisfaction to me that German blood and German kultur have been saved. Accept my warmest thanks for your faithful and strong co-operation in the great work."

Australians Bag 50 Boches.

London, March 5.—"A number of successful raids were carried out by us on different parts of the front," says the last war office report. "Australian troops entered German trenches near Warneton and after killing at least 50 of the enemy and destroying several dugouts brought back 11 prisoners and a machine gun. Other successful raids were carried out by Australian troops in the neighborhood of Gapaard, east of Messines and south of Zollebeke. Prisoners were taken by us in each instance."

It was a unique situation, the undertaking of these three men with the woman. The most pathetic part, perhaps, was the businesslike way in which they went about it. No athlete was ever trained more rigidly for a coming contest, nor wolf dog for the harness, than was she. But they had good material, for Madeline, unlike most women of her race, in her childhood had escaped the carrying of heavy burdens and the toil of the trail. Besides, she was a clean-lined, willowy creature, possessed of much grace which had not hitherto been realized. It was this grace which the men strove to bring out and knock into shape.

At the next intermission Prince discovered a new predicament.

"I say, Kid," he said, "we're wrong, all wrong. She can't learn in moccasins. Put her feet into slippers, and then on to that wared floor—phew!"

draw near. At irregular intervals Bettles sent word down from Stuart river regarding the welfare of young Cal. The time of their return was approaching. More than once a casual caller, hearing dance music and the rhythmic pulse of feet, entered, only to find Harrington scraping away and the other two beating time or arguing noisily over a mooted step. Madeline was never in evidence, having precipitately fled to the inner room.

On one of these nights Cal Galbraith dropped in. Encouraging news had just come down from Stuart river, and Madeline had surpassed herself—not in walk alone, and carriage and grace, but in womanly roughness. They had indulged in sharp repartee, and she had defended herself brilliantly; and then, yielding to the intoxication of the moment, and of her own power, she had bullied, and mastered, and wheedled, and patronized them with most astonishing success. And instinctively, involuntarily, they had bowed, not to her beauty, her wisdom, her wit, but to that indefinable something in woman to that man yields yet cannot name. The room was dizzy with sheer delight as she and Prince whirled through the last dance of the evening. Harrington was throwing in inconceivable flourishes, while Malemute Kid, utterly abandoned, had seized the broom and was executing mad gyrations on his own account.

At this instant the door shook with a heavy rap-rap, and their quick glances noted the lifting of the latch. But they had survived similar situations before. Harrington never broke a note. Madeline shot through the waiting door to the inner room. The broom went hurtling under the bunk, and by the time Cal Galbraith and Louis Savoy got their heads in, Malemute Kid and Prince were in each other's arms, wildly schottisching down the room.

As a rule, Indian women do not make a practice of fainting on provocation, but Madeline came as near to it as she ever had in her life. For an hour she crouched on the floor, listening to the heavy voices of the men rumbling up and down in mimic thunder. Like familiar chords of childhood melodies, every intonation, every trick of her husband's voice, swept in upon her, fluttering her heart and weakening her knees till she lay half-fainting against the door. It was well she could neither see nor hear when he took his departure.

"When do you expect to go back to Circle City?" Malemute Kid asked simply.

"Haven't thought much about it," he replied. "Don't think till after the ice breaks."

"And Madeline?"

He flushed at the question, and there was a quick droop to his eyes. Malemute Kid could have despised him for that, had he known men less.

"I guess she's all right," the Circle City king answered hastily, and in an apologetic manner. "Tom Dixon" got charge of my interests, you know, and he sees to it that she has everything she wants."

The King Felt Baffled, Defeated.

Malemute raised a foot and regarded her shapeless house moccasins dubiously. In previous winters, both at Circle City and Forty Mile, she had danced many a night away with similar foot-gear, and there had been nothing the matter. But now—well, if there was anything wrong it was for Malemute Kid to know, not her.

But Malemute Kid did know, and he had a good eye for measures; so he put on his cap and mittens and went down the hill to pay Mrs. Eppingswell a call. Her husband, Clove Eppingswell, was prominent in the community as one of the great government officials. The kid had noted her slender little foot one night, at the governor's ball. And as he also knew her to be as sensible as she was pretty, it was no task to ask of her a certain small favor.

On his return, Madeline withdrew for a moment to the inner room. When she reappeared Prince was startled. "By Jove!" he gasped. "Who'd 'a' thought it! The little witch! Why, my sister!"

"Is an English girl," interrupted Malemute Kid, "with an English foot. This girl comes of a small-footed race. Moccasins just broadened her feet healthily, while she did not misshape them by running with the dogs in her childhood."

Madeline was the wife of a king, a king whose yellow treasure could buy outright a score of fashion's puppets; yet in all her life her feet had known no gear save red-tanned moosehide. At first she looked in awe at the tiny white satin slippers; but she quickly understood the admiration which shone, manlike, in the eyes of the men.

So the training went on. Every day Malemute Kid led the girl out on long walks devoted to the correction of her stride. There was little likelihood of her identity being discovered, for Cal Galbraith and the rest of the old-timers were like lost children among the "new" strangers who had rushed into the land. Besides, the frost of the North has a bitter tongue, and the tender women of the South, to shield their cheeks from its biting caresses, were prone to the use of the canvas masks. With faces obscured and bodies lost in squirrel-skin parkas, a mother and daughter, meeting on trail, would pass as strangers.

JAPAN ASKED TO INVADE SIBERIA

British, French and Italian Ambassadors Request Safeguarding of Allied Interests.

UNITED STATES SILENT

No Opposition to Plan is Expected From America, However—Act, Then Talk, Is Probable Program.

London, March 5.—According to the Daily Mail, the British, French and Italian ambassadors in Tokio have been instructed to jointly ask Japan to take the necessary steps to safeguard Allied interests in Siberia.

The newspapers added that the American ambassador was not expected to join the request, but that no disturbing conclusions are to be drawn from this fact, as no American opposition is expected.

Act, Then Talk, Believed Plan.

Washington, March 5.—Military action by Japan in eastern Siberia to check German influence and to protect war stores at Vladivostok is believed here to be imminent.

The United States has not yet expressed its views on the proposed step, but it was said in diplomatic quarters that the Japanese probably would move quickly to meet emergency conditions, leaving to the pending diplomatic exchanges development of an understanding with America and all the Allies upon the scope and purposes of the enterprise.

While it has no direct bearing upon the situation in Asiatic Russia, the news which came to the Swedish legation that Germany has given notice of her intention to occupy the whole of Finland will tend to hasten an agreement upon Japan's plans.

Indicates German Arms, View.

The German explanation to the Swedish foreign office, which has protested against the proceeding that the occupation is to restore order and without intent to take permanent possession, is regarded as a very clear indication of what the Teutons may undertake in any part of Russia now that the Bolsheviks have been forced to accept their onerous peace demands.

Officials and diplomats here profess ignorance of what preparations have been made by Japan for the operations about to be undertaken. As a matter of course, secrecy has been observed and a strict censorship in regard to the Siberian question is in force at Tokio. Possibly the next word to come out of Japan on the subject will be an announcement of something accomplished.

Other Powers Couldn't Aid.

It has been stated in official quarters that it is no concern of the Allies, nor of America, how Japan goes about the task, once the question of policy is settled. If the decision is reached to give Japan a free hand in eastern Siberia, it is now conceded that the Allies, with the exception of the United States, are in no position to tender her any substantial aid, owing to the lack of available forces.

In a diplomatic way the situation has remained unchanged since the middle of last week. The State department has not indicated to the Japanese government what may be its view of the new situation created by the signing of peace articles by the Bolsheviks.

The statement made recently by Viscount Matsuno that Japan had a working agreement with the Allies and America in regard to this question, it is said, has been taken too literally. Officials say that the viscount probably meant there is a sympathetic agreement on the subject.

TO STOP VOTING BY ALIENS

Punishment Urged by Hennepin Judge—Draft Opponent Hit.

Minneapolis, March 5.—Allen voting in Minnesota elections must stop and aliens who have exercised the elective franchise must be punished.

according to the seriousness of their offense as shown by evidence. District Judge Daniel Fish has just told the new Hennepin County grand jury in his charge.

Judge Fish also told the grand jury to put an effective stop to opposition to the draft and to such attacks on the government as will hinder the prosecution of the war.

Minnesota aliens who have refused to register as directed by the Minnesota Public Safety commission should be interned for the period of the war, State Auditor J. A. O. Preus contends. He already has the names of a number said to have failed to register.

Movie Actor Drowns.

New York, March 5.—Word of the death by drowning near Johannesburg, South Africa, of Col. John W. Cochrander, widely known for his leadership of various commands in campaigns against the African natives and Boers, was received here. He was more than 60 years of age. The veteran warrior, whose body was literally covered with scars of spear wounds received in encounters in the African jungle, was playing a part in a movie production when he fell from his horse while fording a river.

SPIES IN AMERICAN ARMY

Enemy Agents Found in Uncle Sam's Uniform Will Be Severely Dealt With.

Most difficult to detect of all spies is the man in uniform. The penalty is death, of course, but this never has deterred the master spy. Some of them are now foolishly relying on the theory that America is too good natured to execute a spy even if found in its own army or navy.

Thus far there have been a few instances of men who impersonated officers. These have proved to be crooks and swindlers intent on fraud and robbery. But some real spies are believed to have enlisted in the American army. Several persons who qualified for commissions through the officers' training camps have been suspected of other than patriotic motives. In cases where investigation has not brought evidence sufficient for severe punishment those whose loyalty has been doubted were ordered into inactive service.

Curiously enough, fewer complaints of enemy activity have come from American cities where German colonies are located than from cities where other large foreign elements reside. This is attributed to the fact that the American citizens of the first-mentioned communities have since the outbreak of the war been especially watchful, and also to the fact that the German-Americans, most of whom have pledged their allegiance to their adopted country, omit no opportunity to demonstrate their Americanism.—David Lawrence in Saturday Evening Post.

GOT THEIR PAPERS "SMOKED"

Readers Were Amply Protected Against Infection in the Early Days of the Republic.

In the early days of the United States, at times when epidemics were appearing in the larger cities, the publishers of newspapers disinfected their sheets before delivering them to newsboys and post riders. Frequently, in order that the sheets might not be carriers of disease, they were put into stoves and thoroughly smoked before being wrapped for delivery. In the South, where yellow fever often spread very rapidly, special stoves, built of sheet iron, were designed for this purpose and used tobacco as fuel, but the process was slow, as only one sheet "smoked" at a time. The plan of smoking by wholesale from resinous wood was probably more commonly employed in the North than in other sections of the country because of the great infection feared from smallpox. The academic and pedantic newspaper critics, who, like the poor, have been ever present, used to assert at such times that a publisher would perform a much more useful service for the public if he would pay more attention to disinfecting the contents of his papers and less to disinfecting the sheets themselves. The latter, critics asserted, could be done when necessary by the reader in his own home.

IF KIDNEYS ACT BAD TAKE SALTS

Says Backache is a sign you have been eating too much meat, which forms uric acid.

When you wake up with backache and dull misery in the kidney region it generally means you have been eating too much meat, says a well-known authority. Meat forms uric acid which overworks the kidneys in their effort to filter it from the blood and they become sort of paralyzed and laggard. When your kidneys get sluggish and clog you must relieve them, like you relieve your bowels; removing all the body's urinous waste, else you have backache, sick headache, dizzy spells; your stomach sours, tongue is coated, and when the weather is bad you have rheumatic twinges. The urine is cloudy, full of sediment, channels often get sore, water swells and you are obliged to seek relief two or three times during the night.

Either consult a good, reliable physician at once or get from your pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to clean and stimulate sluggish kidneys, also to neutralize acids in the urine so it no longer irritates, thus ending bladder weakness.

"Jad Salts is a life saver for regular meat eaters. It is inexpensive, cannot injure and makes a delightful, effervescent lithia-water drink."
